CHALLENGE #1

Summer is a great chance to learn about the history and science of things you love, such as lemonade! Pick a summer topic of interest and use books or the internet to find three interesting facts.

TOPIC:

CHALLENGE #2

Find a nonfiction magazine that interests you. Locate a subheading from the article you read and glue or copy it below:

Based on the subheading and the clues you found in the text, what was the main idea of the article?

A large, empty white rectangular box with a black border, intended for students to write their answers. It is surrounded by white decorative swirls on a dark blue background.

CHALLENGE #3

Visit a local library three times. Each time you visit, talk to the librarian and ask for some book recommendations based on your interests. Record your visits by having the librarian sign below, "X" marks the spot!

CHALLENGE #4

Find a spot in the sun to share a book with a family member. Read it aloud to them and ask them questions about the book while you read. Make reading fun in the sun! Draw a picture or take a real photograph and glue it in the cloud -->.

CHALLENGE #5

At your next family and/or friends get-together, ask your friends and/or family the name of their favorite children's books.

Consider checking out these recommendations next time you visit the library.
