

AP United States History – Summer Assignment – Mr. Pettine

AP United States History is meant to give you a college-level survey understanding of the history of the United States. As preparation for this study, you are required to read the first eighteen chapters of America: A Narrative History. Tindall and Shi's narrative will give you an introduction to the themes, concepts, events, and personalities that comprise our history.

Please be aware that I do not endorse all views of the authors and that you will likely disagree with some of their findings. One of our goals during the year will be understanding how historians judge the historical record and evaluate events. It is imperative that you complete this reading before the course begins as it will cut down on the amount of reading and lecturing in the class and allow us to focus on the primary readings, secondary readings, and individual skills needed to succeed on the exam.

Your assignment is to answer multiple choice quizzes located on the Google Classroom for the 2023-2024 AP United States History course page. There are eighteen quizzes in total.

The textbook may be checked out from Mr. Pettine's classroom before the end of the 2022-2023 school year and from the main office during the summer.
